To our valued customers:

Thank you for another great bareroot season. We appreciate your business and will have next year's availability posted to our website before the end of August. We still have a limited number of species on hand so please feel free to inquire if you are looking for a particular plant. Orders for the 2009 / 2010 season can be placed at any time. As the growing season progresses we will prepare a list of species that will be available next season.
